PREPARING FOR YOUR WEDDING - The Wedding Shot List - Things to think about.

Name of Bride:
Name of Groom:
Wedding Date:
Who should the photographer/s coordinate with on the day of the wedding?

Address of Ceremony:
Time of Ceremony:
Address of Reception:
Time of Reception:

Please Include Any other relevant Schedule information:
---	--

In most cases the photographer will coordinate directly with the bridal couple, but it is helpful to designate a 'Master of Ceremonies' to assist, such as the bridesmaid or a family member, particularly during the group photo sessions.

Please take the time to review this list carefully. Be sure to list all of the group shots you will want of family, friends, and members of the wedding party. This will save considerable time during the photo session. A wedding is a very fast-paced event. This list contains the standard shots for most weddings. Every effort will be made to capture all of the shots that you want but sometimes conditions prevent this from happening. List shots which are important to you, but the best approach for candid photos is to allow the photographer to "follow" the bride and groom, capturing events as they unfold.

- Are there any special traditions in your ceremony, any special actions, or anything else that you want covered?
- Are any special items, such as heirlooms, special decorations, articles of clothing, or anything else you want photographed?
- You should think about the photographing of the ceremony itself. Most brides prefer full coverage, but some churches, do not like flash photography during the ceremony.
- We will also need to talk briefly about the basics of getting good wedding pictures. Basically that means you need to ignore the photographer but be very aware I am there!
- Please ask if you have any questions about the portions of your wedding that are covered in your package.

Other comments:

Your photographer/s will not know the people who are important to you. Please take the time, or have someone else take time, to point out important people who you will want photos of.
